che troviamo nell'isola della cucina in versione verde alpino. Insieme a diverse opere d'arte di Kelley Walker e Stefan Brüggemann, a definire il carattere della living room è poi un grande divano in pelle color noce: il famoso modello "Tatzelwurm" firmato De Sede. Sabbia, crema, marrone e grigio sono infine i colori predominanti, per una tavolozza cromatica tenue, in armonia con gli ambienti. ⬛

An apartment of charm

BORN FROM THE SERENDIPITOUS meeting of Monegasque Christophe Poyet and Parisian Emil Humbert, the Humbert & Poyet studio was founded in 2007 in Monaco. Thirteen years on, this dynamic duo is now among the Principality's most renowned, their visionary approach gracing spaces like Milan's Beefbar, and a range of luxurious showrooms, offices, villas, apartments, and hotels across Paris, Berlin, London, Mexico City, Dubai, and Hong Kong. One such masterpiece is this gem in the heart of Paris, with a breathtaking view of the Eiffel Tower. After a complete redesign, it captured the hearts of a couple searching for their perfect home in the City of Light. If the Eiffel Tower vista weren't enough, the apartment also overlooks the Tuileries Gardens to the south. Spanning 250 square meters, it boasts two bedrooms, three bathrooms, a kitchen, a dining room, and a stunning living area. Carrara marble steals the spotlight, featured in the kitchen's Alpine green island. Artworks by Kelley Walker and Stefan Brüggemann lend flair, while the centerpiece of the living room, De Sede's iconic "Tatzelwurm" walnut-hued leather sofa, adds sophistication. A palette of sandy, cream, brown, and grey tones ties the interior together in harmonious elegance.
